

Criteria A: You scored a perfect 5/5 on Criteria A, which is excellent! Your ability to effectively address the prompt and demonstrate understanding of the text is strong. Keep up the great work in this area.

Criteria B: You scored a 3/5 on Criteria B, which means there is room for improvement in your language and structure analysis. To improve this, try focusing on specific examples of language techniques used in the text and analyze how they contribute to the overall meaning. Practice identifying and explaining these techniques in detail.

Resources to improve Criteria B:

- Study guide on literary devices and language analysis
- Practice exercises on language and structure analysis

Criteria C: You scored a 4/5 on Criteria C, showing good development and organization in your response. Make sure to continue providing clear and coherent analysis of the selected text in order to strengthen this aspect of your writing.

Criteria D: You also scored a 4/5 on Criteria D, demonstrating effective use of examples and evidence to support your arguments. Keep this up and remember to always back up your points with evidence from the text.

Overall, focus on enhancing your language and structure analysis to improve your score in Criteria B. Pay close attention to specific language techniques and their impact on the text. Good luck!
